

Obituary

Barbara Ann Engels, age 79, of Homosassa, FL, passed away May 31, 2017 at her home. Barbara was born on October 30, 1937 in Indiana to Chester and Edna (Davis) Crawford. Barbara moved to Citrus County 28 years ago from Buffalo, NY.

Barbara was a very hard working woman, a loving Mom and a devoted wife. She loved to bake and always dreamed of having her own bakery with her father. In her younger years she loved to roller skate and just before she had her first child she was learning how to dance on her skates. Barbara raised seven children and in-between times she found time to work outside the house. She was a waitress for several years and then worked in the kitchen in a nursing home for a while. But she liked waiting on tables and talking to the customers more. Barb also worked in the family green houses. After they got going, she stayed at home and worked in the green houses and gardens. She loved camping, fishing and most of all baking and if she wasn't doing that she was canning something. No one could ask for a more loving Mom, wife, grandmother or great grandmother. We will miss her.

In addition to her parents, Barbara was preceded in death by her husband, Robert H. Engels in 2016; two brothers, Dicky and Jack Crawford.

Survived by seven children, Marilyn and Elric Vieu, Terry Debiew, Carol and Andre Chernogorec, Anna and Kyle Streubing, Rose and Sherman Poe, Linda and Carl Nardillilo and Robert H., Jr. and Natalie Engels; siblings, Donna and Joe Augustiniak, Marilyn Mallette, Arlene and Richard Babicz, James and Marlene Crawford; twenty-six grandchildren; twenty-three great grandchildren; five great great grandchildren.
