

Obituary

Robert J. Carr, age 89, of Hernando, Florida, passed away August 20, 2019 at the Vitas Hospice in Lecanto, FL. Robert was born on November 25, 1929 in Bronx, NY to Robert and Dorothy (Walters) Carr. He moved to Citrus County Florida 25 years ago from Blauvelt, NY.

Robert was a retired Lieutenant for the NYPD and a Korean War Veteran who served in the United States Armed Forces-AG. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus of Blauvelt, Council #5343 for 71 years, served as commander of V.F.W. #1615, and was a parishioner of St. Catherines Catholic Church in Blauvelt, NY.

In addition to his parents, Robert was preceded in death by his sister, Madelyn Keating. He is survived by wife, Marjorie Carr and her three sons, John Caulfield and wife, Lynn, Richard Caulfield and wife, Nancy and Christopher Caulfield and wife, Irene.

Robert was predeceased by his wife, Anne (Conway) Carr and is survived by four children, Cathleen M. Carr-Morales and her husband, Thomas, of Blauvelt, NY, Patricia A. Walter and her husband, Richard, of Blauvelt, NY, Robert J. Carr and his wife, Suzanne, of Tappan, NY and Kevin P. Carr of Brooklyn, NY. He is also survived by ten grandchildren, Thomas, Cassidy, Aimee, Robert, Jack, Hannah, Bianca, Shane, Jake and Ryan.

Robert had a presence that was endeared by all he touched. He had a quick wit, infectious personality and caring nature that drew people to him. As social as he was, he was equally content at home, reading, contemplating ideas and enjoying nature around him. Robert was an avid NY Giants football and NY Yankees baseball fan. He will be dearly missed by family and friends.

Private cremation will take place under the direction of Browns Funeral Home In Lecanto, Florida.

Memorial and Celebration of life will take place at a later time.

