

Crystal River, Florida

Agnes Munro Wolfe (94) formerly of Mount Tabor, NJ passed away on February 20. Agnes was born on December 10, 1927 in Long Island to John and Agnes (Schoenberg) Munro. She graduated from Morristown High School in 1947. Agnes married her high school sweetheart Clifford J Wolfe on October 16, 1949. She and Cliff moved to Mount Tabor in 1955 where they raised their family. Aggie was payroll director for RFL Industries in Boonton Township until she retired in 1990 and she and Cliff moved to Crystal River. Aggie was a knowledgeable sports fan who loved the NY Jets and the Tampa Bay Lightning. Cliff and Aggie were active members of the Plantation Golf Club where they ran the Sunday League until Cliff's passing in 2010. Aggie organized and ran the annual Plantation Belle's Golf Tournament for many years until stepping down in 2018. You could still find her on the golf course until 2020 when the pandemic closed everything down. Aggie and Cliff's home was always a hub of activity; filled with family and friends, their door was always open and they loved to throw a good party. Agnes was preceded in death by her husband of 60 years, Clifford and her grandson James Clifford Wolfe. She is survived by her daughter Barbara Noonan (Michael), and her sons Clifford (Audrey) and James. Agnes is also survived by her four grandchildren; Kate Berg, Kyle Noonan, Melissa Klingel and Jessica Kaplan as well as seven great grandchildren. Agnes' ashes will be interred next to her husband at Bushnell Cemetery. A celebration of her life will follow at a later date. In lieu of flowers donate to your favorite charity in her memory.
